Welcome.

Stop where you are just a moment. Look around. Take a deep breath of our sweet-smelling air. Now look up – and experience our most vital source of energy.

We are blessed to live in a part of the country that has remained remarkably clean, with fresh, breathable air, abundant natural resources and beautiful landscapes. For many of us, these are exactly the reasons we are here. But taking all of this for granted is a sure way to lose it. The earth is a gift that isn't just for us, but for our children and grandchildren as well. Let's take care of it!
